However, the chairperson or secretary must use their best efforts to notify all trustees prior to the scheduled trustees' meeting.

5.5 All trustees' meetings, including an emergency trustees' meeting, shall be regulated by the trustees as they think fit, providing that they shall not make a decision or do anything that is contrary to any other clause in this Charter.

5.6 Only the trustees can vote at trustees' meetings. Voting shall be by a show of hands and the declaration of the chair that any resolution has been carried shall be deemed conclusive evidence of that fact, unless a poll is demanded by another trustee immediately following such declaration.

5.7 In the case of the equality of votes the chairperson shall have a second or casting vote.

5.8 All beneficiaries shall be entitled to attend any trustees' meeting, provided that their presence does not detract from the purpose of the meeting. However, it is not a requirement for beneficiaries to receive notice of any trustees' meeting.

5.9 An AGM will be held within four (4) months of the end of the financial year (31 March).

5.10 At the AGM:

5.10.1 The trustees will present to the beneficiaries an account and balance sheet prepared by a suitably qualified person.

5.10.2 The chairperson will present a report outlining the events, achievements, and other issues of the past twelve (12) months.

5.10.3 The beneficiaries will have the opportunity to discuss relevant business and comment on the objectives for the coming year.

5.12 All beneficiaries shall be entitled to attend, speak and vote.

5.13 Persons who are not beneficiaries attend an AGM at the pleasure of the trustees, can only speak if approved by the chairperson, but cannot vote on any matter.

6.9 At the time of appointing a representative, the trustees shall set out in writing the terms of reference including any delegated power and term of appointment. The appointment will be regulated by the trustees as they think fit.

7 Dispute resolution

7.1 Disputes or disagreements may arise from time to time, including conflicts of interest, allegations about trustee misconduct, the performance of a trustee, the practice of tikanga or kawa at the Marae, or the interpretation of this Charter. If a matter is raised verbally at any AGM, SGM or other hui, the chairperson will respond, which could include deferring the matter to the trustees at their next meeting.

7.2 All other matters may be raised verbally at any time with the chairperson or deputy chairperson to see if, in the first instance, the matter can be resolved to the satisfaction of the beneficiary.

7.3 The beneficiary, if dissatisfied with the verbal response or if not wanting to raise the matter verbally, may choose to formally outline the matter in writing to the chairperson or secretary. When the letter is received, the chairperson or secretary shall acknowledge receipt within ten (10) days and the letter shall be referred to the trustees at their next meeting.

7.4 In the first instance, the chairperson or deputy chairperson shall convene appropriate meetings as soon as possible after the trustees have discussed the letter. The trustees may, at their discretion, involve kaumatua/kuia, or any other beneficiary, in these meetings.

7.5 If the chairperson's or deputy chairperson's meetings do not achieve resolution, the matter must be referred back to the trustees at their next meeting. At this trustees' meeting the chairperson or deputy chairperson shall give a report on the matter. The trustees must then appoint two of their number and an additional person from among the beneficiaries to investigate the matter further. When they have further investigated, these three may recommend a possible option for resolution or that the trustees engage a professional mediator or other suitably qualified person to help resolve the dispute.
